Support For Israel

It may be warmer than usual here in New York, but in Israel nights are chilly, and IDF soldiers are starting to bundle up when they're on duty. Standing Together is once again inviting everyone to help them protect the Protectors of Israel with their annual warm winter clothing campaign. They're starting off the campaign with IDF-approved polar fleece gloves. These gloves have a specially-designed index finger that minimizes exposure of the soldier's hands to cold temperatures.

In the IDF, cold weather gear isn't standard issue; soldiers are given the barest essentials and anything else they want, they have to bring on their own.* Not all soldiers have the means to purchase it by themselves. Join Standing Together as they purchase cold weather clothing and gear to distribute on army bases, to ensure the soldiers can continue their mission of protecting our friends, family and holy places throughout Israel.

To donate, go to www.stogether.org/wintergear-2/

* Cold weather clothing needs to meet strict military standards. Standing Together is purchasing all items through an authorized military equipment dealer.
